The 'Art Re-Creation: The New Dynamics of Street Arts' aims to reinvent the creation of performances in public spaces and to improve the image of street artists.

In this context, the two shows «Démocratie I Love You» and «Le Cabaret de l'Intégrité» have been completely recreated and adapted to current contexts while retaining their relevance and impact on the themes of democracy and integrity.

The dissemination of these shows has enhanced the visibility of street arts and made art more accessible to the Burkinabe population.

A circus tent has been constructed to serve for the tour of the two recreated shows, as well as a long-term space for the diffusion of various artistic performances in Burkina Faso.

As a result, a dissemination tour including at least six performances at the national level, five at the regional level, and ten at the international level has been successfully carried out, expanding the reach and impact of the shows.

Finally, the project has contributed to local economic development and the professional development of individuals in the artistic field.
